FRANKLIN HIGH SCHOOL SEEN FROM DIVISION STREET

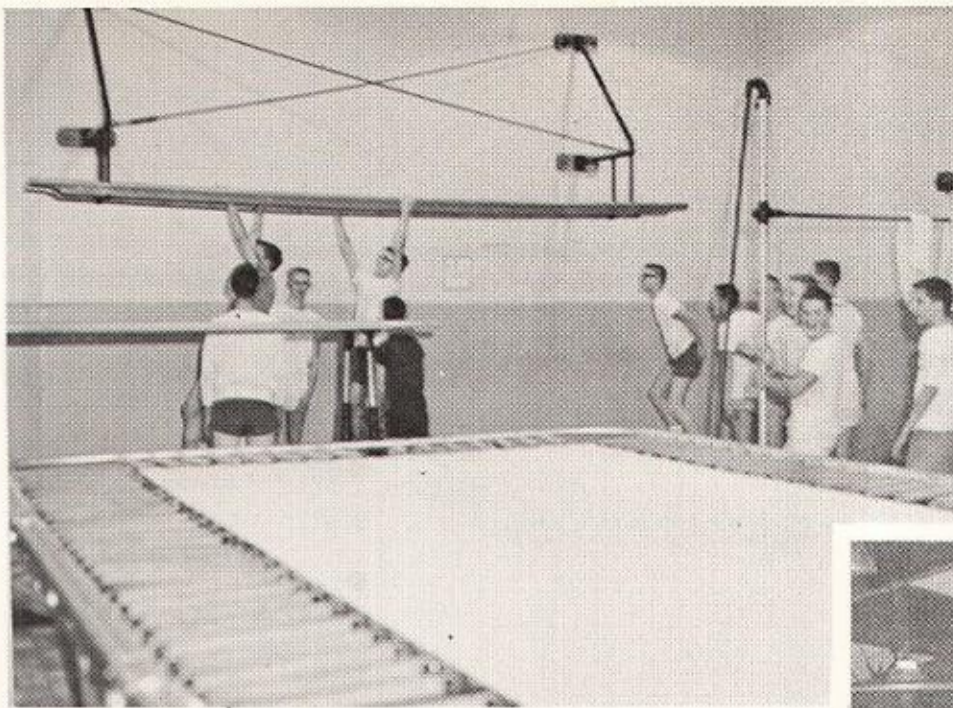

The guidance and kind consideration of Mr. S. F. Ball will be long remembered by the students at Franklin when he was principal.

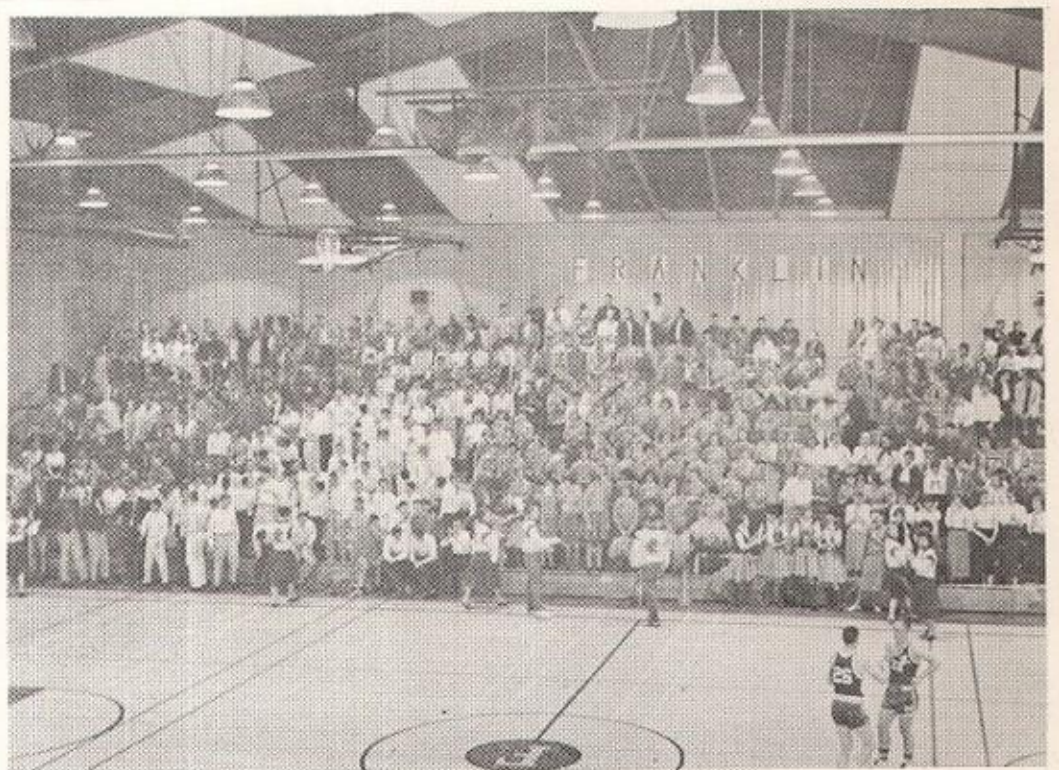

It was a great privilege having a man like Mr. Charles Fry as our past principal.

Franklin has expanded and modernized a great deal since those early days.

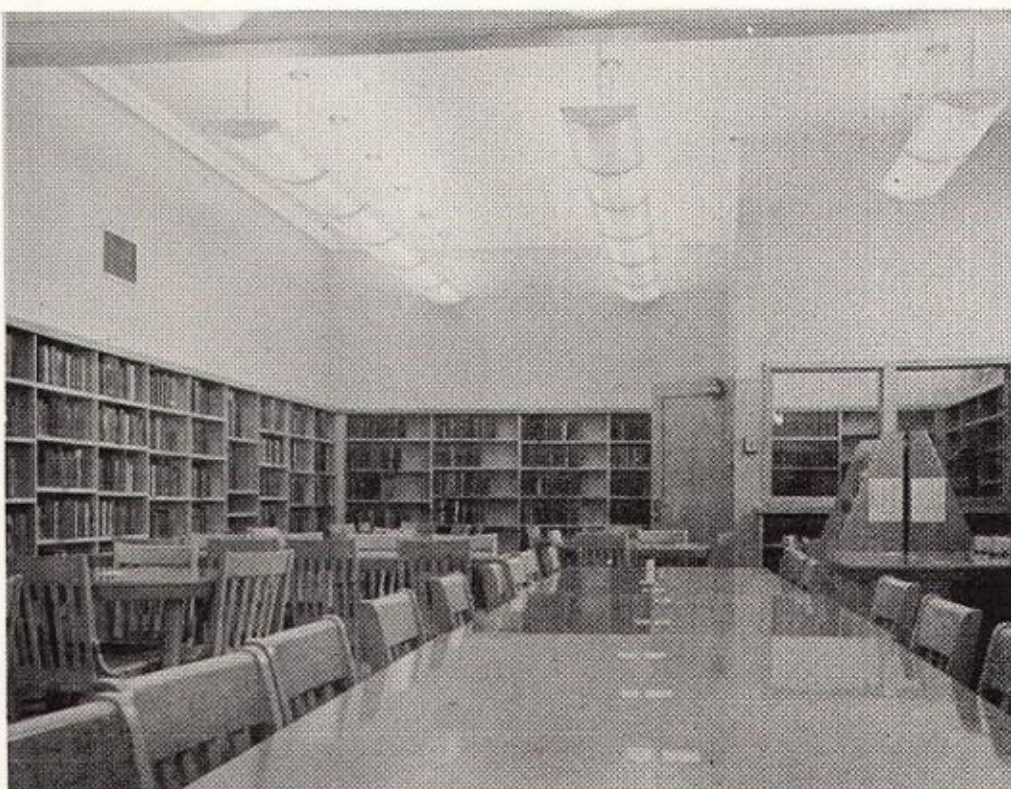

Well known to many Quakers is the trampoline placed in the apparatus room..

An occurrence of one of the many exciting events in Franklin's spectacular new gym.

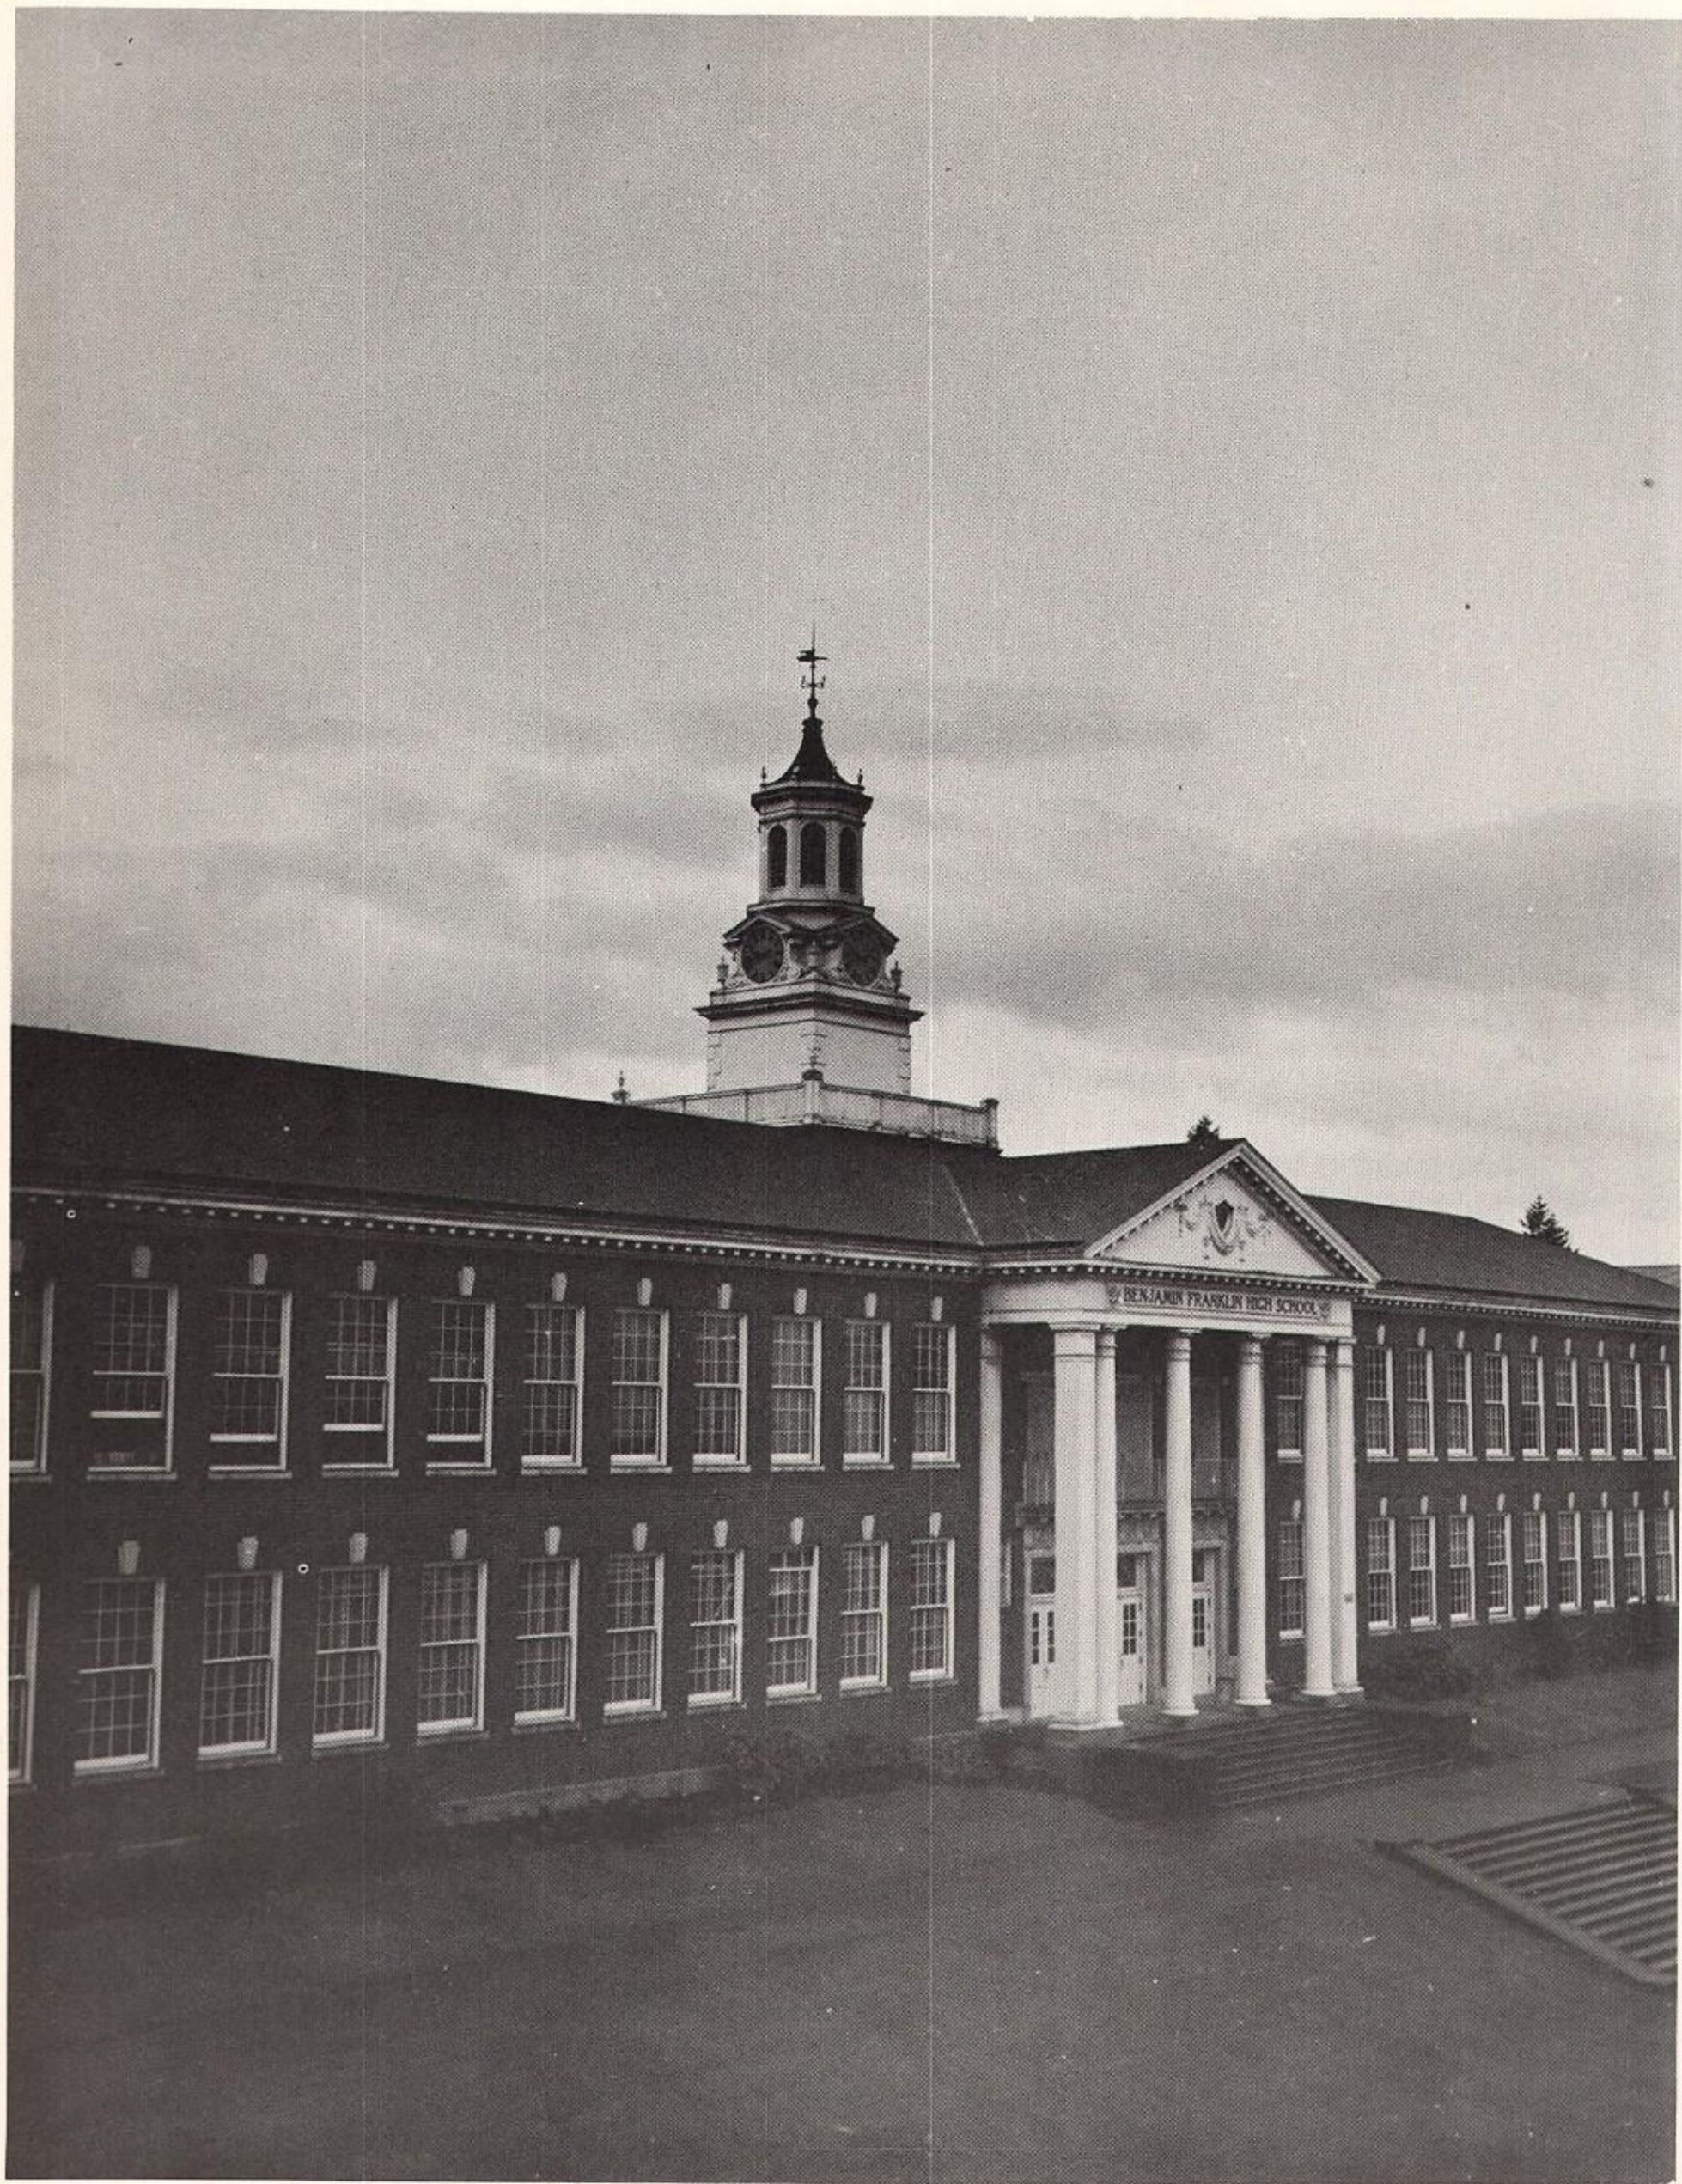

A familiar scene of student life.

A thrill to students at Franklin was the opening of the new library.

A long awaited and wonderful sight of our new main office.

Dr. Erickson's buoyant personality and industrious nature are an inspiration to the entire student body. For the past six years, Franklin's halls have echoed with his friendly greetings and kind advice.

Miss Grant's patience and understanding have proved invaluable to countless girls during her years at Franklin.

Mr. Campbell's wonderful humor and strong character have gained him the respect and admiration of the entire school.

Mrs. Shank's diligent service and continuous cooperation have been an example to us all.

IN MEMORIAM

... to Mr. Arlon Bogard, beloved teacher, who died of a heart attack on April 3, 1958, while rehearsing the Franklin High School Orchestra for the Easter Assembly.

Mr. Bogard taught in the Portland Public School System for twenty years. In this time he made a name highly honored and much loved by all those who came to know him. In his nineteen years at Washington High School he was a consistent winner. He brought many honors to himself and the schools in which he taught.

Although Mr. Bogard had been at Franklin for only a short time, he had gained the admiration, respect, and love of every member of the faculty and students. We realize the death of Mr. Bogard is a great loss to his family, as it is also a great loss to our school and city. We are sure that his fine example of achievement will live long in the memory of persons who knew him.

Curriculum Council

Row 1: Mrs. Mosher, Miss Bohlen, Mr. Douglas, Mrs. Shank, Mr. Taylor, Mrs. Gritzka, Miss Senh, Mr. Pierce—Row 2: Miss McKercher, Mr. Kalman, Mr. Stipac, Mr. Fedje, Mr. Richter, Mrs. Nugent.

Under the leadership of Mr. Pierce, president, Miss Bohlen, secretary, and Mrs. Shank, administrative member, curriculum council has acted as an advisory board on curriculum affairs, adding new courses and reorganizing of the old ones. This group has been a silent, but hardworking organization which is the backbone of the school as an academic institution.

MRS. JONES; Always aware of our needs and problems, and ever ready to extend a helping hand to those who need it, you have been a friend and aid to us for the past four years. For this, and much more, we thank you.

Senior Class

MR. STIPAC;
Four years ago you met us at the doors of Franklin. You have tutored, counseled, and ever strove to bring our class dreams to fulfillment. Now, as we, the class of '58, again pass through the doors of Franklin, we pause momentarily to look back upon one who has long worked hard on our behalf. Congratulations, Mr. Stipac, for a job well done.

in memoriam . . .

ROBERT KLEIN was a member of the class of 1958, although he never actually attended classes at Franklin. For the past twelve years he was afflicted with paralysis of the arms and legs which forced him to receive all of his high school education at home. Regardless of his handicaps, everyone that knew him remarked on the way Bob remained cheerful and optimistic at all times. The senior class will always remember its bravest and most earnest classmate.

Junior Class Officers

Under the leadership of a fine group of officers, the junior class began the year with their future activities planned and ready to put into effect. The sale of class cards was a great success, giving early proof of this council's capability. The purchase of their class jewelry before Christmas made it possible for them to wear pins, discs, and rings for a year and a half.

Junior Class Officers

Immediately after their installation, the spring officers began work on well planned assemblies, featuring interesting speakers. Then came the event toward which everyone was looking—the Junior Prom! Sparked by cooperation and hard work on the part of everyone, the prom climaxed their third and most memorable year.

Spring Sophomore Officers

The new spring officers, while holding scheduled meetings, showed great skill in taking over their duties. At the same time they joined in with the freshmen for the Freshie-Sophomore class dance, which proved a great deal of fun and an over-all success due to the cooperation of all concerned.

*Speech #29
Review C, D, E*

The freshman class offers thanks to Mrs. Bergerson for her wonderful job of counseling, guiding Franklin students over obstacles in their way.

Freshman Class

Mr Kalman is a vital asset to the successful operation of freshman activities, and the freshman class salutes him for a job well done.

Fall Freshman Officers

The freshman class was first introduced to Franklin when the seniors guided them on a tour of the school. The year began to take shape for these "newcomers" with the Freshie Frolic, sponsored annually by the seniors. To test their spirit and organizing ability, they successfully planned and carried through a class dance. Their final job was the planning of the election and installation of officers.

Spring Freshman Officers

First on their brand new agenda, these spring term officers began planning the Freshie-Sophomore dance and a talent show, as well as a series of interesting meetings. Ending their freshman year they installed new officers who would take over during the fall term of their second year at Franklin.

POST

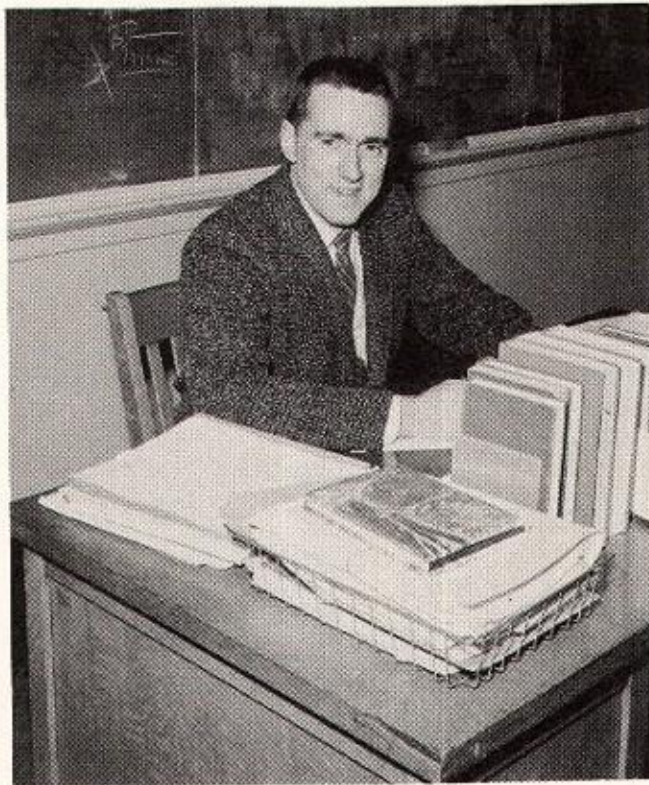

Editor in Chief
Sharon Nugent

Editor in Chief
Sue Staton

The Franklin High Post has brought us the news when it was news. Under the guidance of first Sue Staton and, later, Sharon Nugent, a capable staff has produced great things this year.

STAFF

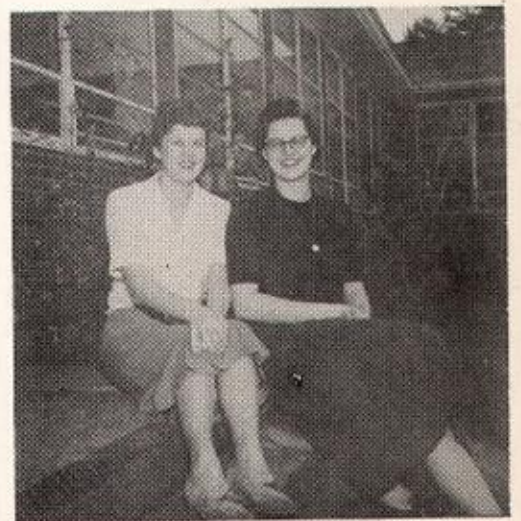

MR. LIDO BOTTI
Advisor

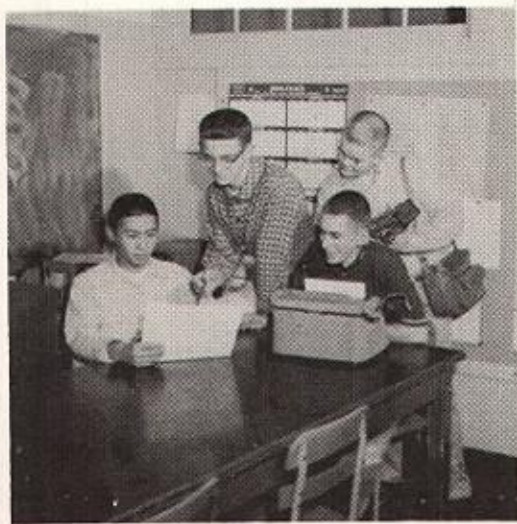

Circulation manager, Dolores Pippi and typist, Janice Nakata.
